

Thank you, Peckham, for your feedback about your needs and aspirations for the redesign of Peckham Square.

Over the last six months, our team have had great conversations with you to understand your stories.

To make those stories into future visions for play, leisure, reflection, and events, our design team have responded with these ideas for redesign.

What do you think? Is this a space for your culture and community?

Peckham Square Redesign

Get onto our website, email us or write to us to share your views and opinions on these designs, so we can improve and adapt these concepts. When you leave a comment on these online surveys, they get turned into reports and graphs that inform our team of designers.

And THAT is what makes a difference for the redevelopment of Peckham Square.

Don't forget, you are also welcome to come in and visit us in person. Drop us an email to make an appointment, or just pop in if you are passing.
